

About us

At X-VAX, we believe that inducing antibodies that mediate the killing of infected cells will provoke an entirely new and effective immune response. Our vision is to finally beat pathogens acquired by mucosal infection such as herpes, influenza, tuberculosis, and HIV, affecting hundreds of millions of people around the globe.

Our values

We dare to imagine.

We dream big. Imagination is the foundation for our creativity and innovation. We are curious, look at problems from new perspectives and ask ourselves “What if ...?”

We have the passion to win.

We are determined to overcome the challenges and obstacles we face. We are genuinely committed to excellence, and we hold ourselves accountable for delivering results.

We do the right thing.

We strive to take the high road in every action and decision. We are open, honest, ethical, and fair. We take pride in the way we build and grow our business.

We have fun.

We are team players who don't take themselves too seriously. We appreciate diversity and want to be surrounded by people who enjoy different opinions and ideas. There is no place for negative energy.
